PERSONALISED

INTERNAL STYLE

A glazing bead is the part that secures your glass, but it also determines the finished internal aesthetic, which is why R7 is unique. You can choose from two designs, square or decorative; a 28mm decorative or square bead for double glazing, and a 44mm decorative or square bead for triple glazing.

TECHNIQUES

A mitre weld will fuse the joints together diagonally for a contemporary appearance, or choose the Graf weld for a seamless diagonal weld. The Timberweld® process welds the profiles with a mechanical look to both sides, or MechWeld/ External Timber Look (ETL) gives a diagonal weld to the internal, with a mechanical look to the external. Of course, there's also the traditional mechanical joint which is not welded, but made in a traditional mechanical jointed method, often used in timber joinery.

TRICKLE VENTS

With regulations in place since June 2022, trickle vents are a mandatory requirement for most installations (some homes may be exempt within conservation areas or listed buildings, this exemption should be applied for as part of your planning process). The dedicated trickle vent cover conveniently hides the vent from view so the stunning sight-lines of the windows and doors isn't compromised. With colour matching capabilities, they are designed to fit with The Residence Collection's R7. And it doesn't stop there, the trickle vent also acts as a head drip to divert water away.

Old timber windows often had a raised moulding that ran horizontally. Its function has a dual purpose, to shed dripping water and to increase the strength of the mullion when required, that's why we recreated this feature to ensure it provided time-served traditional performance and aesthetics. There is the option to add Georgian bar to all R7 windows, completing the true timber alternative look.

GARDEN ROOMS CONSERVATORIES & ORANGERIES

Generally-speaking, conservatories and orangeries all constitute a "garden room", but more specifically, we define a garden room as emphasising the close relationship between house and garden. Use colours that enhance plus a style that opens access to the garden or courtyard.

A conservatory can create a unique addition to any home and can be a treasured and valuable room, providing much needed additional space. Conservatories are frequently created in the most unlikely of places and a useful room can be built in a previously unused part of a courtyard or garden.

Orangeries were once a symbol of prestige, built on to the residences of the very wealthy in a bid to protect their fruit trees during the colder months. Though their sense of luxury remains, the function of such spaces has changed to provide stunning additional living space, for use all year round.

Our Sustainability Promise

Greener Than You Realise

PVCu is greener than you realise. It's an insulating material, keeping you cosy in the winter and cool in the summer, contributing to lower energy bills and carbon emissions. R7 can achieve a Window Energy Rating (WER) of A++ and a u-value of 0.8W/m²K which is Passive House standard so it's future proof too. All our windows and doors can be fully recycled and actually include a recycled material section within them. As for maintenance, there's very little, no toxic paints, primers, preservatives or fungicides to keep your windows looking fresh!

PLEASE NOTE:

Building regulation Part F relates to ventilation, and new requirements around trickle vents when adding windows to a new home or replacing windows in an existing home.

It's worth noting that these regulations may differ for historic and traditional buildings like listed buildings and buildings within conservation areas. The homeowner can apply for an exemption from the Planning Council during the planning process.
